

NEW LONDON VILLAGE COUNCIL

Workshop – Police Budget Meeting – Monday, October 9, 2017 @ 6:30 p.m.

Chief Michael Marko presented his 2018 budget for the Police Department. He went over the anticipated general expenses for 2018.

Chief began by explaining that for the last eight years he has had leftover money in his budget at the end of the year. He stated that for 2017 they would be coming in under budget again. Chief Marko then commended his officers and told council what a great group they are.

For 2018 Chief stated he would like to promote one officer to the position of Sergeant. He also wanted to create a new position called Crime Scene Investigator. He asked council to allow him to add those two positions.

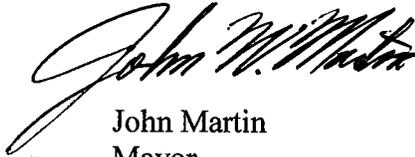

Chief continued to go down through his budget with council with no other major changes.

Chief ended his meeting by again telling council what a hard-working group of officers they have working for the village.

The workshop was adjourned for the regular council meeting.
